Dear distinguished colleagues and delegates,

it has been my pleasure to serve as representative of the Forum of Young Parliamentarians for the Interparliamentary Union for the last two years. In those two years I have been representing the young parliamentarians at several conferences. Whether it was in Asuncion, Doha or in New York, it was always my greatest honour to represent, defend and put forward youth related matters and to encourage and help especially young parliamentarians to get acquainted with the international parliamentary sphere.

I would like to continue this work and therefore would like to hereby announce my candidacy for a second term, which will also be my last term before retiring due to my progressing age, which will not allow me to serve as a youth representative for a third term. For this reason, I would like to use another two years of service for the IPU to especially foster engagement between younger and older parliamentarians besides the building international bridges between parliamentarians.

I would greatly appreciate your support for my candidacy and thereby also my continuous service for the young parliamentarians in in the Interparliamentary Union.

Sincerely

Ulrich Lechte
